

Autry Technology Center Connected Me to My Future

Picture yourself in your future and develop your career at Autry Technology Center

In the days after Shane Galindo's work-related accident at his oil field job, he was not sure how he would support his family. He, his wife and two daughters had moved to Oklahoma in 1999 to be nearer their family and his accident changed everything.

"I had to find a new career field and I needed training. Autry Technology Center was suggested as vocational rehabilitation, and Graphic Arts interested me. It was fun going to school at Autry. It was fun to learn. My high school in New Mexico had a graphic arts program, but it was just a shadow of Autry's program," says Shane.

When Shane started in Graphic Arts, he barely knew how to turn on a computer. He respects the instructor, Cheryl Licklider, and appreciates the structure and the pace of the program. The flexible and positive environment helped everyone excel.

Today, Shane is a press operator for a high-tech printer at Downey Decal. He enjoys his work and recommends Autry with great enthusiasm. "Go talk to the career counselors and take a look. I guarantee there is something there for just about everyone."
